

SYNTHESIS

HEAD LIKE A KITE Random Portraits of the Home Movie

PATTERN 25

Dave Einmo, the founder of Pattern 25 Records and guitarist of Sushirobo, conceived and created this musical soundscape documenting his family's Super 8 home movies of the '70s. Einmo uses sound samples from his family's private collection and collages them into an electronically atmospheric photo album of sorts. Adding in a diverse array of sounds, styles and guest musicians from Kinski, Crooked Fingers, the Posies and others, Einmo's personal history becomes an expansive gallery of communal art. The moody vibe is made more abstractly personal with song titles like "Your Butt Crack Smile," "Tell Mommy You Want a Sip of Beer" and "Interested in Worms." The songs are artfully made to reflect the quick snippets of three-minute-long Super 8 tapes.

Bonnie J. Bailey

